Riel, the Brave Rebel, Captured.
By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

WINNIPEG, May 16.—News comes here this morning from reliable sources that Riel, the rebel leader, was captured yesterday by the Dominion troops. His followers are scattered and it is believed the rebellion is ended.

St. PAUL, Minn., May 16.—The Evening Dispatch's special from Quatrepuys crossing via Clark's crossing, May 15, says: The report that Riel has been captured is confirmed but it has not arrived yet. He will probably not be brought in until night. Many rebels are giving up their arms and the rebellion has been entirely ended, although one teamster was fired upon three miles from camp this morning. William Diehl, Thomas Howie and J. H. Armstrong, three daring scouts, captured Riel.

At noon he was on the road three miles north of Batouche. He was in company with three young men, all of whom were armed, and appeared unconcerned.

Diehl said to him: "I am surprised to see you here." Riel said: "I was coming to give myself up." He said his wife and family were across the river.

While talking to him Major Boulton's scouts were seen coming up, and Riel, becoming afraid of being shot, begged his captors to take him into camp themselves. Accordingly Diehl went off for his horse, but when a little distance away Boulton's scouts got close, and Howie and Armstrong took Riel on one of their horses and taking unfrequented roads will bring Riel into camp this afternoon. General Middleton gave orders that the men should keep in their tents when Riel comes in, as he is afraid some personal enemy of Riel will shoot him many having sworn to shoot him at sight.

RIEL BROUGHT IN.

Riel was brought in at half past three this afternoon. No demonstration was made. He walked quietly to the general's tent. The note which Riel gave the courier was a letter which General Middleton sent him. He beckoned to him. He knew nothing of Dumont.
Riel said he stayed Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the bluffs one-half mile north of Batouche. He wished a fair trial and asked Armstrong if he would get a civil or a military trial. He wanted a civil trial. He was afraid of the scouts, but passing through them, his captors brought him in safely.

Riel is a half-breed Frenchman, has a splendid education and is a daring soldier. In 1869 he led another revolt which the now famous General Wolseley put down. Riel was later sentenced to death. He was later pardoned and when his people elected him to the Canadian parliament he was banished from the dominion and up to the time of this revolt has lived in the United States. He will be exceedingly fortunate if he escapes death this time.

Found Murdered.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
Kokomo, Ind., May 16.—During last fall a company of eighteen Italians prepared work on the new Lafayette, Hurlington and Western railroad, under the superintendence of Contractor McCarty. Four of them rented an old out-building, twelve miles west of this city and when work was suspended they lived as best they could until Tuesday, the 15th inst., in hopes of getting the wages due them from the railroad company. They left for Cincinnati Thursday morning and men visiting the shanty discovered the mattress and pillows in the house stained with the blood. Near the house they discovered in a secluded spot the body of a man buried.

The coroner had the body disinterred and it was identified as that of Anthony Nicoli, boss of laborers and a sub-contractor on the railroad works. He had a rope about his neck and the skull was crushed in. The rope was used to drag the body from the scene of the murder to the burial place. The last seen of Nicoli alive was Saturday evening, May 3. Three of the companions of Nicoli are supposed to have gone to Sharon, Ohio.

The New Version.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, England, May 15, 1885.
—Copies of the revised version of the Old Testament were given to the newspapers at midnight last night. All the papers this morning contain cop-ious extracts from the work. In the following paragraph is presented the substance of a semi-official article prepared for the London Times, in which some account of the work of revision with reference to the American part of it is given:

"Finally the international work of fourteen years has come to a close.
The revised version of the New Testament was issued in May, 1881, and now the revised Old Testament will soon be published in all parts of the English-speaking world. This revision is the most important event in the history of the English Bible since the publication of King James' translation in 1611.
The revision of the Old Testament may not be so great as that of the new, but an immense number of copies have been sold for immediate delivery.
It will probably be more favorably received and less severely criticized for it involves no changes of the Hebrew text, no older MSS. than the Masoretic having been discovered. The idiom of the authorized version is most carefully preserved out of regard for the conservative feeling of the church in its attachment for the language of the old version. All errors of translation, however, have been removed and the revision will be pronounced by every competent Bible reader to be a very great improvement. It presents the result of the combined labor of a large number of the best Hebraist and biblical scholars of England and the United States, most of them professors of Hebrew in universities and seminaries.
It has, moreover, the advantage of the vast advances in the last fifty years in oriental philology, biblical geography, history and antiquity, all of which were but imperfectly understood by the forty-seven translators of King James; although it is freely admitted that they did the very best in their day. The new version is not a good version in the place of a bad one, but a great improvement of a good version. The present revision was inaugurated by the conversion of Canterbury, the mother church of Anglo-Saxon Christendom, May, 14, 1870, by the adoption of the following resolutions:

"First, That it is desirable that a revision of the authorized version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.
"Second, That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as may be found necessary to insert in the text of the authorized version.
"Third, That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translations of the Bible, of any alteration of the language, except where, in the judgment of the most competent scholars, such change is necessary.

"Fourth, That in such necessary changes the style of the language employed in the existing version will be closely followed.
"Fifth, That it is desirable that the convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent foreign scholarship to whatsoever nation or religious body they may belong.

Steps toward the formation of a committee on revision were taken.
The first meeting of the New Testament company in England was held June 22, 1870. On the 7th of July following the two houses of convocation voted, 'To unite the co-operation of some American divines,' and to Bishop Wilberforce and Dean Stanley was assigned, soon afterwards, the duty of securing this result. They authorized Dr. Angus, who was contemplating a visit to America, to open correspondence with the Rev. Dr. Schaaf and other American scholars while in the United States, in regard to this work.

In August, 1870, Dr. Angus sent letters to various American scholars, in which he explained the plan of the English work and suggested the formation of an American committee of twelve or eighteen, to which the work of the English revisors could be submitted for criticism and suggestion. He gave some hints as to how the expenses of such a committee could be met, and invited correspondence on the subject. Dr. Angus also had a personal communication with Dr.
Schaaf. The result was the selection of certain gentlemen who were fitted for the work and were likely to be regarded as authorities in biblical learning by the American public, and the submission of their names to Bishop Endicott and Dean Stanley as presents the English body. A few months later Dean Stanley made the first formal communication by letter in discharge of the duty assigned to him.

After the vote of convocation in July 1870, on the 13th of January, 1871, he wrote to Dr. Schaaf as follows:

—DEARER, WESTMINSTER, ABBEY, LONDON, January 13, 1871.

My Dear Sir:

I have been in communication with Dr. Angus on this subject of the revision of the authorized version of the Bible now set forth by two companies of English, Scottish and Irish scholars appointed under the authority of the convocation of the province of Canterbury. By that — and in pursuance of a vote of the lower house of convocation, the bishop of Winchester and myself were requested to ask the friendly co-operation of some divines from the United States of America in a work that it was felt concerned that vast part of the English speaking races of the world, as nearly as ourselves. I find that the bishop of Winchester has already communicated on the subject with Bishop Potter with the view of procuring the assistance of such scholars as the Protestant Episcopal church of America may furnish, and I therefore undertake the charge of addressing myself to you as having been the centre, as I understand, of the communications of the non-Episcopalian church. May I ask you, in the consideration of the distance of space and the length of time which would be involved in repeated correspondence with each member, to enter into such negotiations as you may deem best with the scholars of these churches. It will, of course, be readily understood that the object of the committee of convocation and of the revising companies, is to procure the assistance of which I speak purely on the ground of scholastic and biblical qualifications. The assistance, as the vote of convocation expressed it, 'if any eminent for scholarship to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.' With this view I have consulted with Dr.
Angus and others and venture to submit a list of such eminent persons as have occurred to us as falling within the above description. You will perhaps have no difficulty in arranging with them, and also, if you think fit with Bishop Potter, representing the Protestant Episcopal church, and to whom I have not written, as this bishop will understand, only he has already received a communication from my superior in rank, the bishop of Winchester. The details of this mode of co-operation will easily suggest themselves. On them, I need not at present enter, but will conclude with the hope that the joint and cordial co-operation in this great and holy work may add another link to the friendly intercourse and communion between English Christendom and that powerful and ever increasing offshoot that it has produced beyond the Atlantic.

Yours very faithfully,
A. P. STANLEY.

Bishop Wilberforce had somewhat earlier written to Bishop Potter, of New York, asking the co-operation of the divines of the Episcopal church in this country, but as the general convention of the church did not meet until autumn the subject could not be formally brought before the house of bishops before that time. Under date of August 8, 1871, Bishop Wilberforce again addressed the bishop in a letter, which was submitted to the house of bishops for their decision. The house of bishops decided to take no official part in the work, but left the individual members free to act as they might. So much time elapsed in preliminary communications between America and England that the final arrangements for the American committee were not made until the summer of 1872. These arrangements were concluded by Dr. Schaaf, who visited England that summer for that purpose. On his return in the autumn the committee began its work, although nearly two years later than the English companies in beginning the work they pressed forward with such activity that they were enabled to complete it contemporaneously with their English brethren. The first meeting of the American committee, when its organization was completed, was held at the Bible house in New York, on the 4th of October, 1872. The list of the American committee as finally constituted is as follows, including both those who participated in the organization of the body and others who were added to the membership by election, at some of the earliest meetings. The membership was necessarily limited to scholars whose residence was not as remote from New York as to make the attendance at the monthly meetings of the committee impossible: General officers of the convention, Philip Schaaf, D. D., LL. D., president; George E. Day, D. D., secretary; Old Testament company, Prof. William Henry Green, D. D., LL. D., (chairman) of the theological seminary, Princeton, N. J.; Prof. G. E. Day, D.
D., secretary, divinity school, New Haven, Conn.; Prof. Charles A. Aiken, D. D., theological seminary, Princeton, N. J.; Rev. T. W. Chalmers, D.
D., collegiate reformed Dutch church,
New York; Prof. Thomas J. Conant, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Prof. John DeWitt, D. D., theological seminary, New Brunswick, N. J.; Prof. George Emlin Hale, D. D., LL. D., divinity school, Philadelphia, Pa.; Prof. Chas.

P. Krauth, D. D., LL. D., vice provost of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Prof. Taylor Lewis, LL. D., union school, Schenectady, N. Y.; Prof. Charles M. Mead, D. D., theological seminary, Anderson, Mass.; Prof. Howard Osgood, D.
D., LL. D., theological seminary, Alexandria, Va.; Prof. Jas. Strong, S.
T. D., theological seminary, Madison, N. J.; and Prof. Rev. C. V. A. Van Dyke, D. D., adversary on questions biblical.

Of the Old Testament company, Dr.
Crauth is the only active member who has died, except Prof. Taylor Lewis, who died in 1877, having been unable to participate in any of the meetings.
It is interesting to note that the few members who were not in the committee at its first organization were elected by the body almost immediately so that all brought the work to its completion had a part in all its stages from the beginning. The meetings of the two American companies were held every month from September to May inclusive in each year at rooms 42 and 44 Bible house, New York.

NEW DIMENSIONS.

LONDON, May 16.—Among the lighter touches of the revision of the old testament are those that occur in well known passages which is here given, as revised, "But I know my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand up at the last upon the earth and after my skin shall thus be destroyed, yet from my flesh shall I see for myself and mine eyes shall behold and not another." Another well known passage in the ecclesiastics becomes "Remember also the creator in the days of thy youth, or ever the evil days come or the years draw nigh when thou shalt say 'I have no pleasure in them.'" Among the minor changes may be quoted, "The foolish scorned the guilt offering, for the fools make a mock at sin." The witch of Endor now says only "a God," not "God's according." In the proverbs a "naughty person" becomes a "worthless person." "Wine is a mocker! Strong drink is raging!" becomes "Wine is a mocker! Strong drink is a brawler."

is lower than they can be bought in Sweden, formerly the cheapest match those of eastern makers, as match-wood is cheaper and the other material can all be obtained at the same rate at which it is purchased in the Atlantic States, while labor is no higher.

The Peru Sentinel says: "Kirkpatrick, the revenue collector of this district, was in Peru Tuesday. He expects to hang on to the office until next winter when congress meets. He is a very bitter republican and the delay of the administration in turning the office over to Oscar Henderson has given the incurrent a great deal of contempt for it."

Dr. C. B. Stemen defends the Wabash hospital system in the Fort Wayne Journal of the Medical Sciences. He contends that railroads are no more obliged to take care of their injured employes than private individuals, foundries or factories and he cannot see why the state legislature should cripple the company in its effort to provide for its sick men, often homeless, friendless and pen-sionless, at the expense of their more fortunate associates.

The next meeting of the Pennsylvania company's surgeons will be held at Alliance, Ohio, May 19. The surgeons of all the lines operated by this company will meet and the session promises to be one of unusual interest. Dr. J. H.
Davison, of Warsaw, the secretary of the association, is making a special effort to get all the surgeons to attend and the prospects are that quite a number will be present. Drs. C. R. Stemen and A.
E. VanBurck will attend from this city.

Department Commander D. N. Foster, of the G. A. R., has completed arrangements with representatives of the Grand Trunk railway whereby the Indiana headquarters train will pass over that line of road to attend the Nineteenth National encampment, June 19, at Portland, Me. The trip will include a stop of some eight hours at Niagara Falls and a daylight ride down the St. Lawrence river by steamer. From Montreal the ride will be through the White mountains, by daylight, in observation cars, via Fabyan's, to Portland.

DR. NICHOLLS,
Of Cleveland and Medical Schools; the Centrated Physician and Surgeon of London, England.

It would be impossible in this short notice to give all the facts in connection with the remarkable career and successful professional record of Dr. Nicholls—a record that has no parallel in the medical profession—a man of marked personality, a fluent conversationalist, remarkable talents, able, scholarly and polished, endowed with all the natural qualifications and educational advantages that classical and medical schools could impart, for breadth of intellect he stands in the front rank of his profession. Since his location in our city he has made a host of friends and performed many wonderful cures. His practice, which is among the better classes of our citizens, as well as the low fortunate, is rewarded by a large and lucrative business.

Until a few years past he was tainted with the spirit of close communion and the medical code; but a noble mind could not always be chained in bondage, so he has thrown ethics to the dogs and steps forth upon the broad platform of liberality of speech, liberalty of practice, culling from nature those remedies in true harmony with nature's laws, and when a human soul is being weighed in the balance, he is not afraid to use any remedy that will prove the most beneficial and effectual. Those wishing medical aid will find a conscientious friend and honest adviser in Dr. Nicholls, who holds out no false hopes to the sufferer.
Money is not his god; money will not buy his opinions or his aid; hence all who consult him can fully rely on the most honest, honorable and scientific treatment. We deem it an honor to say what we have in favor of this eminent practitioner, who has done so much for suffering humanity and the amelioration of mankind.

The Wabash Makes a Small Payment.

The Wabash company has dropped a nuclear to the bondholders of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road. To the holders of 275 of the thousand-dollar bonds, upon which several hundred thousands of interest are overdue, $9,000 has been paid. The determination of the owners to recover their property, if the rentals are not paid, has probably brought forth this fruit. The Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago owners have another hold upon the Wabash. The latter owns seven miles of that division of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago road between Peru and Laporte in reaching Detroit, and some arrangement for the retention of this piece of track after June 8—the date upon which the road goes back to the owners—will probably be made upon terms favorable to the bondholders. The committee of five holders of bonds on the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago proper—Peru to Indianapolis—has not yet decided to demand their road or their interest, as erroneously reported, but the drift of its deliberations seem to be to that end.

The B'nai B'rith.

The district grand lodge B'nai B'rith concluded its session Thursday afternoon and adjourned to meet in Cleveland next May. The following officers were elected and installed:

President—Jacob Furth, of St. Louis.
Vice-presidents—B. Mahler, of Cleveland, and August Brenton, of Evansville.

Treasurer—Morris Baner, of Cincinnati.

Secretary—A. Abraham, of Cincinnati.

Sergeant-at-arms—A. Metzger, of Cincinnati.

General Committee—Joseph May, Simon Wolfstein, B. Betterman, Lipman Levy and William Ornstein, of Cincinnati, and M. A. Marks of Madison.

District Court of Appeals—Victor Abraham, Nathan Drucker, and M. J.
Mack, of Cincinnati; Marcus R. Sulzer, of Madison, and Nathan Morris, of Indianapolis.

The "Spotters" Transferred.

The North Manchester Journal says that this week begins a system of "spotting" on passenger trains, on the Eel River division of the Wabash road. At some unknown place a fellow will board the train and proceed to take up checks given by the conductor and instead give one of his own. We are not apprised of what color the last check will be, but the atmosphere may take on a lurid glare about the time the spotter begins his work on the trains of about two conductors on the line. We predict that these agents will not find crookeries in quantities sufficient to pay for the extra checks and the money given the spotters had better be divided among laborers along the line.

Sick headache.
Thousands who have suffered intensely with sick headache say that Hood's Sarsaparilla has completely cured them.
One gentleman thus related his story:
"Hood's Sarsaparilla is worth its weight

TWO FAMOUS DIPLOMATS.

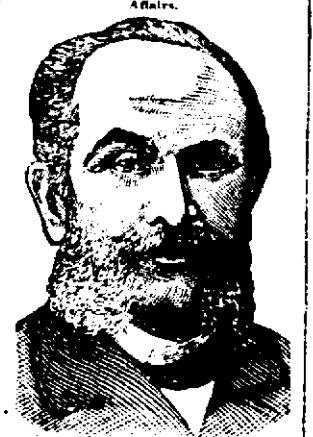

Earl Granville, English Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

GRANVILLE.

The Right Hon. George Liveston Gower, K. G., the eldest son of the first Earl of Granville, was born May 11, 1815, and was educated at Eton and Christ Church, Oxford, taking his degree in 1841. In 1845 he became an attaché of the Parisian Embassy, was elected to the House of Commons for the borough of Morpeth in 1846, and again elected in 1847. In 1849 he was honored and accepted the position of Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. He was next chosen as member from Litchfield.
While in the House of Commons he supported the Liberal party and always advocated the doctrine of free trade. In 1849 he succeeded to the peerage, and in 1849 was appointed President of the Board of Trade. In 1851 he was made a Cabinet Minister, and in December of that year succeeded Lord Palmerston in the Foreign Office, retaining the position on the occasion of the fall of the Russell Ministry early in 1852. Lord Granville, who has held the office of Master of the Buckhounds, Parliamentary Secretary of the House of Commons, and Treasurer of the Navy, was appointed President of the Council in 1853, and in 1855 undertook the ministerial leadership of the House of Lords, but was, however, unsuccessful. In 1856 he was sent to represent England at the convocation of Alexander II., at St. Petersburg. He was made Lord Warren of the Cinque Ports in December, 1855, and in 1858 accepted the position of Colonial Secretary under Gladstone, remaining in the position until 1870, when he was made Secretary for Foreign Affairs, occupying the position until the retirement of the Liberal Cabinet, in February, 1874. At the commencement of the following year, when Gladstone retired, the Earl of Granville became the acknowledged leader of the Liberal party. When Mr. Gladstone was returned to power, in 1880, Granville was again made Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

M. De Giers, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

DE GIER.

Nicholas Carlovich de Giers is a descendant of an old Finnish family, and was born in 1820. At the age of 19 he entered the Foreign Office at St. Petersburg, and rose from step to step in his position under the Government. He thus became acquainted with every detail in the department, and to this thorough training is to be ascribed his great success as a diplomatist and statesman. In 1848 and 49 he acted as political agent for Russia during the Hungarian insurrection, and was for a greater part of the time upon the scene of conflict. In 1848 he was made Consul General to Egypt, and subsequently was sent to Bucharest, owing to the Turkish complications. In 1872 he represented Russia at Tehran, Persia, and from thence was commissioned as Ambassador to Stockholm. He served as Director of the Asiatic Department, one of the greatest in the Russian service. In 1882 he was elevated to the position of Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Plymouth Epidemic.

(Wilderbarre (Pa.) dispatch.)

The new hospital at Plymouth for the reception of patients afflicted with the fever was formally opened this morning. Only those who have no homes will be admitted.
Medical attendance and nurses will be free.
On Gaylord avenue there are eighteen families that must be kept in food and medicine. All the members are down with fever. It costs $100 a day to keep these families alone. There are about eighty other cases of families receiving aid from the relief committee. There were two deaths yesterday and thirteen new cases.

Guarding Cyrus H. McCormick's Grave.

A story is current to the effect that for the past year the grave of Cyrus H. McCormick, the deceased millionaire, has been carefully guarded for fear that a repetition of the Stewart grave robbery case might occur. It is alleged that an old family servant, Mike Allen, stood guard for some time, till O'Rourke relieved him, and that now John O'Rourke watches the place. During the late strike, it is asserted, the guard was doubtful. The mound itself will soon be put in position and the necessity for the watch will be removed.

France Clutching New Territory.

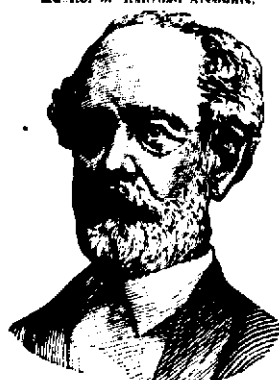

It is announced by a cable dispatch from Paris that France has made fresh annexations on the northwest coast of the Red Sea and south of the present French possessions at Obok. The new acquisitions are said to include the port of Doungarawa, and comprise a vast territory peopled by two powerful tribes.

JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON.

An Hero of Railroad Accounts.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, who was lately appointed Auditor of Railroad Accounts, was born in Virginia in 1807, graduated at West Point in 1829, served in the Seminole war as aid to Gen. Scott, resigned in 1847, re-entered the army in 1848 as First Lieutenant, and was brevetted Captain for gallantry during the war with the Florida Indians. He served in the Topographical Bureau, and in 1843 on the survey of the boundary between the United States and the British provinces. From 1841 to 1846 he was engaged on the coast survey. He served with gallantry in the Mexican war, was twice wounded, and successively brevetted as Major, Lieutenant Colonel, and Colonel. From 1853 to 1855 he was in charge of Western river improvements. He was subsequently employed in various duties in Kansas and elsewhere, and in 1858 was acting Inspector General in the Utah expedition. In 1860 he became Quartermaster General, with the rank of Brigadier General. He resigned his commission in April, 1861, entered the Confederate service, and commanded at Bull Run, Yorktown, and Richmond. He was severely wounded at the battle of Fair Oaks, and for several months was disabled for service.
He was subsequently promoted to the rank of Major General in the Southwest. Since the war he has led a quiet life. He once represented the Richmond (Va.) district in Congress.

Europe.

"I am enjoying poor health," sadly remarked an afflicted lady. "But we can do better in our enjoyment. Mr. G. W. L.
Fortune, of Oklahoma, Ark., writes:
"My wife used six bottles of Brown's Iron Bitters during last year, with very marked benefit. She is enjoying better health than for several years past. With her it is now indispensable." This kind of enjoyment may be the portion of all the weak and weary who take Brown's Iron Bitters.

tion.

Whenever you make a purchase always seek for the best article, even though it should cost a little more than an inferior one. You will always get satisfaction from a good article, while you meet with nothing but disappointment in buying a poor one. Especially is this true in regard to a good family medicine; and Pond's Extract is a preparation which does so much good that many attempts have been made to imitate it. Be careful then to get the genuine.

The Tennessee Legislature has passed over the Governor's veto the bill repealing the Railroad Commission act of 1883 by a vote of twenty-two to ten in the Senate and fifty-eight to thirty-six in the House. The Tennessee Commissioners were enjoined about a year since by the United States Court from enforcing their schedules and rates upon certain roads in the State, and the law has been practically inoperative since. The matter assumed a political aspect, and at the election last fall the people refused to vote for the Democratic candidates for Commissioners, and elected the Republican Commissioners, who had pledged themselves not to serve if elected. The rest of the Democratic ticket was elected.
This was construed as a desire on the part of the people for the repeal of the act, and a bill was introduced in the Senate in February repealing it. The press of the State has been generally in favor of the repeal and against any Railroad Commission law at all. The enjoined Commissioners have been entitled to their salaries from the State, although performing no service.

The use of Iodoform or mercurials in the treatment of catarrh—whether in the form of suppositories or ointments—should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is usually detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of chronic and acute cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril, no pain, agreeable to use. Price fifty cents; of druggists.

The late Sir Harry Parkes, British Minister at Peking, was once in his early days arrested and condemned to death by the Chinese. He showed no fear, but merely said: "Very well; but when you have cut off my head the Queen will send as many soldiers as there are hairs on my head to avenge my death." He was put in the cage and borne to the place of execution, and then allowed to escape.

It is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "This blood-purifying effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter of a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVELL, Lowell, Mass.

The Wabash Courier has this personal gossip: "George T. Say, a prominent real estate dealer of Fort Wayne, was in town yesterday on business.—Mrs. Dora M.
Lain, of Fort Wayne, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bruner, of Falls avenue."

Engineer Sandy Hilliker made the fastest run yet on record, with engine 125, hauling thirteen emigrant coaches, from Crestline to Fort Wayne. He improved on the time of the limited, Sandy stands at the head in making the best run on the Pittsburg road.

The removal of traders on the Wabash road is said to be due Mr. Tutt, one of the receivers, who happened to witness the insulting conduct of the gentlest spotter, in dealing with one of the passengers and at once insisted that the Wabash had no further use for their services.

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL, are as follows: Fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness and local rains on Sunday, southerly, shifting to westerly winds, lower barometer, rising temperature during the day, followed by a slight fall in temperature in west portion.

Miss M. L. Mott, who has been for several years laboring in the cause of the Woman's Home Missionary association in Springfield, Tenn., and who gave a very interesting address during the Forepaugh association meetings that have just closed here, has been prepared upon to remain over the Sabbath and deliver an address upon her experience in the south, at the Congregational church, Sunday evening. She is an entertaining speaker and was listened to with great interest at the association.

A Verdict of $6000 Against John Condon.

Yesterday morning at nine o'clock the jury in the case of the State ex rel Mrs.
N. Reed vs. John Condon stepped into the Logansport court room tired and worn.

The foreman was asked by the judge if they had come to a verdict and the foreman shook his head in negative response. Then all the jury were questioned individually, and all were unanimous in the belief that no verdict could be agreed upon. Judge Winfield thought they had better try to agree on a verdict and sent them back. About ten o'clock they came in again and this time the foreman announced that they had been able to arrive at a verdict. It was read and proved to be in favor of the plaintiff, allowing her damages to the sum of $600. Mrs. Reed sued for $1,000 which she said her husband lost in Condon's gambling room.

United Brethren.

Thirteen Indiana delegates attended the general council of the United Brethren church at Fostoria, Ohio, this week, and the occasion was profitable. This church was founded in Baltimore, Md., in 1774, by Philip William Otterlein, a German missionary. Its present membership is 168,000. It has 50 annual conferences, 2,454 churches, 3,228 Sunday schools and 195,000 scholars. Its institution of learning number 20, of which the Fostoria academy and college of music is one. The church supports two foreign missions, one in Germany and one in Africa. It also maintains an industrial farm in Africa. The increase of membership reported since 1881 is 10, 861; increase in the number of churches, 212; amount paid as preachers' salaries for 1874, $407,515.57; total amount of collection for church purposes, $842,470.

Indiana's Swamp Lands.

In 1830 congress passed an act vesting the title to swamp lands to certain states, Indiana being included. In 1860 Governor Willard executed a release of those lands to the government. Yesterday the supreme court decided that the release was void, so the state has never relinquished her title to those lands to the government.

COMMISSIONED.

J. H. Barnes is General Master Mechanic-Frank Tyrrell's Promotion.

J. B. Barnes was yesterday commissioned as general master mechanic of the great Wabash railroad system. Mr.
Barnes is in the city and congratula-tion is in the air. He is an elegant man, stern to his duty, but he always aims at right, and the employees of company are delighted at the promotion.

Barnes will have his headquarters at Ingfield and receive the handsome salary of $8,000 a year.

Frank Tyrrell, the general foreman here, is now acting as division master mechanic, and his fellow workmen, who have known him from childhood, insist he shall hold the place. He is in every way qualified for the trust and has some of the executive ability that so distinguishes his predecessor, Mr. Barnes.

Something Wrong.

Yesterday Councilmen Lincoln, Wessel, Storm, Michael, Schwartz, Schied, Kramer and Ely made affidavit that they voted for John Mohr for police commissioner on the first ballot, at the recent council meeting. Mr. Mohr swears he voted for Prentiss for the place and Mr. Kennell swears he voted for Michael. This aggregates ten votes.
On the ballot, as counted at the meeting, Mr. Abraham Wolf received ten votes so that a very unfortunate discrepancy exists, that can only be straightened by a stringent and fearless investigation. Mayor Muller this afternoon issued a call for a special meeting of the council Monday evening.

Messrs. Wolf, Mohr and Doehman, the present police commissioners, have resigned their places on the committee, and the council will fill the vacancies next Monday evening, and take such other steps as they may deem best.
Viewed from any standpoint the situation is very damaging and to avoid any possibility of a recurrence of the affair the councilmen should hereafter vote for all officers by voice in open council as they do in all other legislative matters.
This would forever prevent any sort of crookedness in the selection of appointment officers and effect a much needed reform.

The Wabash Courier tells this mishap:
"Miss Eva Harter, Miss Harter and A.
L. Rubbock went to Fort Wayne Saturday to attend the Barrett performance.
Mr. Rubbock returned alone Sunday in a coach attached to a Wabash freight train, and ten miles west of Fort Wayne, in the big swamp, the coach became detached from the train, and despite the endeavor of the conductor to signal the engineer, he ran on to Roanoke, leaving Mr. Rubbock's car in the wilderness.
The coach was not missed till the station was reached, and after a tedious stop of an hour or two the engine returned and hauled the car to Roanoke."

Yesterday, in the superior court, at Indianapolis, the Volitic Quarry Company filed a suit for damages against Wm. B. Howard, one of the contractors on the new State house. It is set forth that Howard, on the 18th day of March, contracted for 100 carloads of stone, which the company were to deliver on cars at their quarries in Owen county.
He doubled that order later and then cancelled both of them. Mr. Howard is the gentleman who built the Nickel Plate road.

The Toledo Bee says: "Secretary Reed has received applications from Lexington, Ky., for a place in the newly organized trotting circuit. Dayton has as yet, done nothing toward filling in the week between the Fort Wayne meeting and their own and unless this is done the horsemen will take their horses to South Bend or Grand Rapids and Dayton will find herself left."

Dr. Nichols stay in this city is limited.
Only two weeks more remain. May 31 will positively be the last of his stay for the present. All who have failed to find relief will be wise to call before it is too late.

Order blindness is said to be ten times common in the male sex as in the female.
